

AMFS MyHealth System

an Ames MyFile Systems Product

AMFS MyHealth System Extends Contact with PDHI

March 20, 2008 (Boston, MA) – AMFS MyHealth System, Inc. (AMFS) is pleased to announce that it has extended its contract with Protocol Driven Healthcare, Inc. PDHI and AMFS first entered their relationship in 2006.

Paul Greenwood, Vice President of Business Development for PDHI, stated that “The AMFS MyHealth solution addresses unique market opportunities by offering smaller organizations a way to get started with health and wellness programs. With the combination of PDHI’s robust Health Risk Assessment module with AMFS MyHealth System customizable health portal, any size organization can offer a complete health and wellness solution for their user community.”

PDHI developed for the AMFS MyHealth System a targeted Health Risk Assessment for college students. With the college aged HRA, the AMFS MyHealth System is the only provider of health and wellness solutions to offer adult, college aged and pediatric HRAs. In addition to their HRA module, PDHI supplies their Personal Health Record module as an integrated component of the AMFS MyHealth solution.

The AMFS MyHealth System is designed to promote healthier living with nutritional, fitness and life style programs tailored for each member of their user communities. In addition Action Plans are provided to support health and wellness programs that can be custom tailored to take into account unique needs of any member of the user community regardless of a person’s age, weight, level of fitness, medical history or disabilities.

About Protocol Driven Healthcare, Inc

PDHI is a healthcare technology and data processing organization that provides preventive health applications and services using the ConXus® health improvement platform. ConXus solutions are scalable and flexible, driving process efficiency and project control for clients. PDHI has adopted an open-systems approach, including extensive administrative tools and interfaces that allow integration of ConXus solutions into client portal environments.

About AMFS MyHealth System

AMFS MyHealth System was established to provide a personal health platform for individuals and families that will become their life long hub for health and wellness. It is our belief that in order to take responsibility for one’s health, individuals need the right tools and resources to understand their health issues, become more engaged in decisions they face, and improve their communications with doctors and clinicians. AMFS MyHealth System provides these tools and resources.

Contact: Ken Lammi, AMFS, Inc. 781-329-8200